

Hit Podcast “Trenton Waves” Becomes “Sasso’s Out!”

Frank and Christina Sasso of New Pod City Launch New Travel Show “Sasso’s Out!”
Following Acclaimed 200-Episode Run of Trenton Waves

Trenton, New Jersey Apr 28, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - After captivating audiences for 200 episodes with Trenton Waves, the beloved hyper-local podcast spotlighting the heart and soul of New Jersey’s capital city, Frank and Christina Sasso are taking their storytelling on the road. The husband-and-wife team behind New Pod City proudly announces the launch of their newest project: Sasso’s Out!, a travel show with a refreshingly human twist.

Departing from traditional travel programming, Sasso's Out! goes beyond scenic views and tourist hotspots. At its core, the show is about connection — meeting real people in real places. Whether it's a coffee shop owner in a coastal town, a street musician in a bustling city square, or a retired schoolteacher with stories to tell, Frank and Christina bring their trademark warmth, curiosity, and authenticity to every encounter.

"Our goal isn't to just show you where we've been," said Frank Sasso. "It's to introduce you to the heartbeat of every location — the people. Everyone has a story, and we want to help tell it."

Following the success of Trenton Waves, which celebrated the vibrant culture, diverse voices, and hidden gems of Trenton, Sasso's Out! represents a natural evolution of the Sassos' storytelling journey. Each episode blends humor, heart, and spontaneity, offering viewers a deeper, more personal connection to places they might otherwise overlook.

"We've always believed in the power of conversation," added Christina Sasso. "Sasso's Out! takes that belief on the road. It's less about checking off destinations and more about discovering humanity wherever we land."

Episodes of Sasso's Out! will premiere weekly on major streaming platforms. Fans of Trenton Waves can expect the same engaging banter, heartfelt moments, and infectious energy, now expanded to a broader canvas far beyond city limits.
