Wilmington, Delaware Apr 21, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - A romantic narrative about a pre-arranged marriage where love is no longer the reason that holds and binds two people, yet love always finds a way!

Marriage is one of the highlights of everyone's life and is supposed to be taken in with so much anticipation and gratitude. Rita and Daniel's romantic interlude is supposed to end that way, but only if poverty doesn't get in the way. Daniel has to marry someone else who can take her and her family out of their impoverished situation. Rita and Daniel's story ended up in a desolate attempt at their togetherness forever. However, Daniel has learned to embrace her life with her husband, Mikal, and started a life of their own with their son, far away from the country where it all started in Ukraine. Mikal became successful in his business ventures in the US, and Daniel became a doctor. Life was easy for them until all good things had to come to an end with his untimely accidental death. Daniel and her son, whose biological father remains a guarded secret, were left to run and continue the business that Mikal left. Then, Rita and Daniel met once again and rekindled the love that they both knew was never gone from each of their hearts. A love once lost and interrupted by poverty has been reunited and reignited.
