

Jacqueline Majors, MD: Pioneering Vascular Surgeon and Compassionate Healer

Leading the Charge in Vascular Surgery and Patient-Centered Innovation

New York City, New York Apr 24, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - Jacqueline Majors, MD, a distinguished vascular surgeon and healthcare leader, is dedicated to revolutionizing the landscape of vascular care through her innovative Limb Salvage Program at Zenith Vascular & Fibroid Center in Memphis, Tennessee. With a focus on patient-centered care and strategic innovation, Dr. Majors is committed to transforming lives by saving limbs, preventing amputations, and restoring blood flow to those facing complex vascular challenges.

As Co-Owner and Director of the Limb Salvage Program, Dr. Majors leads a team of experts in delivering life-saving treatment for patients suffering from conditions such as Peripheral Artery Disease (PAD), Carotid Artery Disease (CAD), and venous disease. Her passion for patient care is evident in her belief that understanding a patient's lifestyle is crucial to effective treatment. "Every single patient that I treat begins with understanding the patient's lifestyle. Every detail can help save a person's life, and I believe that a personalized approach can reveal many of my decisions for vein treatment," Dr. Majors explains.

Dr. Majors' academic journey began at the University of Memphis, where she earned a Bachelor of Science Degree in Cell and Molecular Biology. She continued her education at the University of Tennessee Health Science Center College of Medicine, obtaining her Doctor of Medicine Degree, followed by a rigorous General Surgery Residency Program and a specialized Vascular Surgery Fellowship. Her commitment to excellence is reflected in her pioneering work; Dr. Majors was the first vascular surgeon in a local hospital system to perform minimally invasive carotid repair, as well as the first to conduct multiple endovascular interventions in the state of Tennessee.

In addition to her clinical work at Zenith Vascular & Fibroid Center, Dr. Majors serves as CEO of Vascular Excellence, where she provides expert consulting in vascular care, business strategy, and healthcare leadership. Her expertise extends beyond the operating room, as she actively collaborates with industry leaders to shape policies that improve patient outcomes and mentor the next generation of healthcare leaders. Dr. Majors is a Diplomate of the American Board of Vascular Surgery, a Global PAD Association Advisory Board Member, and holds memberships in several prestigious organizations, including the Society of Vascular Surgery, the Southern Vascular Surgery Society, and the American Medical Association.

Recognized for her outstanding contributions to the field, Dr. Majors has recently been ranked the #1 Vascular Surgeon of 2024 by Memphis Health and Fitness Magazine. Her unique background as a Division I athlete instills a sense of discipline, precision, and a relentless drive in her practice, ensuring that every patient receives the highest standard of care.

Outside of her professional achievements, Dr. Majors enjoys a range of activities, including golfing, fishing, skiing, and cooking. She is a competitive spirit who loves board games and cornhole, and she is passionate about supporting local businesses and community organizations, including Alpha Omega and the homeless Veterans society. Despite her busy schedule, she humorously claims to be a "reformed terrible gardener" with a penchant for killing plants.

For individuals seeking unparalleled vascular care from a surgeon who embodies compassion, expertise, and leadership, Dr. Jacqueline Majors stands as a dedicated ally in achieving optimal vascular health. Her commitment to patient-centered care and innovation is transforming lives in Memphis and beyond.
