

Kara Leigh Roncin, MD: A Leading Pathologist at CHI Health Transforming Patient Care Through Expertise and Education

Accomplished Board-Certified Pathologist and Clinical Instructor Combines Passion for Pathology with Commitment to Patient-Centered Care

New York City, New York Apr 21, 2025 (IssueWire.com) - Nebraska – Kara Leigh Roncin, MD, a distinguished board-certified pathologist specializing in surgical and breast pathology, is making significant strides in the medical community as a pivotal member of the team at CHI Health, part of CommonSpirit Health. With a practice that spans multiple locations, including CHI Health Clinic Pathology at CUMC Bergan Mercy, Lakeside, Immanuel, Mercy Council Bluffs, and Midlands, Dr. Roncin is dedicated to delivering high-quality diagnostic services that enhance patient outcomes.

Born and raised in rural Saskatchewan, Canada, Dr. Roncin's fascination with human anatomy and biology sparked at a young age. She pursued her academic interests fervently, earning a Bachelor of Science degree with honors in Anatomy and Cell Biology from the University of Saskatchewan in 2008. Her ambition led her to the Medical University of the Americas in Nevis, where she obtained her Medical Degree along with another Bachelor of Science degree in Health Science in 2016.

Dr. Roncin's commitment to medicine intensified during her clinical rotations across various hospitals in the United States, where she discovered her passion for pathology. This realization propelled her to complete a robust residency in anatomic and clinical pathology, followed by a fellowship in breast pathology at University Hospitals. Most recently, she completed a clinical fellowship at Saskatchewan Health Authority, focusing her expertise at Saskatoon City Hospital from 2021 to 2023.

As a member of numerous prestigious organizations, including the International Society of Breast Pathology, the United States and Canadian Academy of Pathology, the College of American Pathologists, the American Society for Clinical Pathology, the Digital Pathology Association, the International Society of Breast Pathology, and the International Society of Urologic Pathology, among others, Dr. Roncin is at the forefront of advancements in her field. Her roles extend beyond diagnostics; she actively participates in patient initiatives and serves on the Department of Pathology Grand Rounds Committee, the Breast Health Professional Advisory Board, and the Network Cancer Committee, contributing to the ongoing improvement of pathology services and patient care.

Dr. Roncin's recent achievement of board certification in combined Anatomic and Clinical Pathology further solidifies her status as a leading expert in her field. This accomplishment not only showcases her dedication but also enhances her ability to provide accurate diagnoses, which is critical in the management of patient care.

In addition to her clinical responsibilities, Dr. Roncin serves as a Clinical Instructor in the Department of Pathology at Creighton University School of Medicine. Since November 2023, she has been dedicated to educating the next generation of medical professionals, sharing her wealth of knowledge and experience while remaining engaged with the latest developments in pathology.

Dr. Roncin attributes her success to the strong foundation instilled by her parents, who taught her the values of resilience and perseverance. Her exemplary work has not gone unnoticed; she was named a Top Pathologist by Best in Nebraska Magazine in 2024 and has recently been nominated for “Top Surgical and Clinical Pathologist of the Year” by the International Association of Top Professionals for 2025.

Looking to the future, Dr. Roncin is committed to integrating pathology more deeply into patient care and plans to take her second board exam. She also aims to pursue further education, either an MBA or MAEd, to enhance her teaching skills and continue her journey of lifelong learning.

Dr. Roncin's unwavering dedication to precision, patient care, and continuous education makes her an invaluable asset to the CHI Health team. Her colleagues and patients alike benefit from her commitment to providing accurate diagnoses and compassionate care, solidifying her reputation as a leader in the field of pathology.
