

Margaret Austin, AG-ACNP-BC: Elevating Patient Care at Riverside Diabetes

Bringing Over 40 Years of Expertise in Acute Care and Cardiology

New York City, New York Apr 14, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - Riverdale, Maryland – Riverside Medical Group is proud to announce that Margaret (Peg) Austin, AG-ACNP-BC, has joined its Riverside Diabetes practice as a Certified Adult-Gerontology Acute Care Nurse Practitioner. Peg's extensive background in nursing, coupled with her specialized skills in cardiology, aligns perfectly with Riverside's commitment to providing comprehensive, high-quality care to patients.

Before joining Riverside, Peg honed her expertise in private practice, focusing on geriatrics in long-term and assisted living care. Her impressive career includes a significant role at Inova Health System in Fairfax, where she was pivotal in developing an inpatient research program and served as the Director of In-Patient Research, overseeing studies in cardiovascular, vascular surgery, and interventional areas.

Peg's educational journey began with a Bachelor of Science in Nursing from Widener University in 1983. She furthered her education at Georgetown University, specializing as an Adult-Gerontology Acute Care Nurse Practitioner. Her academic credentials are a testament to her dedication to providing specialized, patient-centered care.

During her time at Lifebridge Health System, Peg led a successful Heart Failure Program that significantly reduced heart failure readmission rates and improved patient compliance with medication and disease management. Her expertise is particularly relevant at Riverside Diabetes, where many patients face overlapping challenges related to diabetes and heart conditions.

With over 40 years in the nursing field, Peg is board-certified in Maryland, Virginia, and Delaware and has extensive experience in long-term care, rehabilitation, and home health with durable medical equipment. Her recent focus on cardiology, especially concerning heart failure and clinical research, equips Riverside Medical with valuable insights into managing complex patient needs.

Peg attributes her career success to her open-mindedness, diligence, and tenacity. She is passionate about lifelong learning and continuously seeks opportunities to enhance her knowledge and skills. Her unwavering commitment to excellence in patient care positions her as a vital asset to Riverside Medical Group and its patients.
