

Nashville's Own 13-Year-Old Soccer Prodigy, Luca Margulies, Scouted by Prestigious FC Malaga City.

Franklin, Tennessee Apr 30, 2025 (IssueWire.com) - In a remarkable achievement for youth soccer, 13-year-old Luca Margulies from Nashville, Tennessee, has been scouted last year to play for the renowned Marcet Academy in Barcelona, a prestigious institution recognized for nurturing young athletes and propelling them into professional careers. His exceptional dedication and skills have caught the attention of scouts worldwide, establishing him as a standout technical player with impressive passing abilities and a unique vision on the field.

Luca's soccer journey has been marked by hard work and relentless passion, which have culminated in this extraordinary opportunity. His talent has not only impressed local coaches but has also attracted interest from multiple scouts across the globe. "Luca's ability to read the game and his technical skills are beyond his years," said [Coach Andrew], a coach who has closely observed Luca's development. "He has a bright future ahead of him."

In addition to being scouted by Marcet Academy, Luca has recently made headlines by signing a contract with FC Malaga City in Spain, becoming the youngest player in the club's history. He will be competing with the U16 squad, a significant milestone that underscores his potential and determination. This opportunity not only highlights his talent but also sets the stage for future collaborations and growth within the sport.

Luca is excited about this new chapter in his soccer career. "I am grateful for the chance to play at such a high level and to represent Nashville on an international stage," he said. "I look forward to learning from the coaches and my teammates and growing as a player."

As Luca embarks on this exciting journey in Spain, his family, friends, and community in Nashville are proud and supportive of his endeavors. They are eager to see how this talented young athlete will continue to develop and inspire others in the world of soccer.

For media inquiries or to schedule an interview with Luca or his family, please contact Livia Margulies at liviacr@yahoo.com

About Marcet Academy:

Marcet Academy in Barcelona is known for its commitment to developing young soccer talent, often signing players who go on to join professional clubs worldwide. With a focus on technical skill development and tactical understanding, Marcet has produced numerous successful athletes in the sport.

About FC Malaga City:

FC Malaga City is a prominent football club in Spain that emphasizes youth development and competitive training. The club aims to foster young athletes and provide them with the tools necessary to succeed in professional soccer.

Media Contact

Luca Margulies

@yahoo.com

Source : Fc Malaga city

See on IssueWire