

New Timber Pest Inspection Service by Point Building Inspections

Perth, Western Australia Apr 29, 2025 (issuewire.com) - Point Building Inspections, a leading provider of comprehensive building inspection services in Perth and now expanding its inspection services across Australia (Melbourne, Sydney, Brisbane, and more), is proud to announce the launch of its new Timber Pest Inspection service in Perth. This service aims to help property owners, buyers, and investors safeguard their properties from the devastating effects of timber pests, including termites, wood borers, and fungal decay.

Timber pests are a significant concern for homeowners, as they can cause extensive and costly damage to the structural integrity of a property. Early detection is critical to preventing severe damage that could lead to expensive repairs or even render a home uninhabitable. With this new service, Point Building Inspections is providing clients with the peace of mind that comes from knowing their property is thoroughly assessed and protected against these hidden threats.

"Our Timber Pest Inspection service is designed to identify issues early, ensuring that homeowners and prospective buyers are fully informed about the condition of the property," said a spokesperson for Point Building Inspections. "Our experienced inspectors use state-of-the-art equipment and advanced techniques to detect timber pest activity that might otherwise go unnoticed. Whether you're buying a new home or ensuring the safety of your current one, this service is a crucial step in protecting your investment."

Point Building Inspections' team of certified professionals carries out thorough building inspections that cover all areas where timber pests are likely to infest, including the foundation, roof spaces, subfloor areas, and any other timber structures. In addition to visual inspections, the company employs moisture meters and thermal imaging technology to detect potential problem areas that could be missed with the naked eye.

The newly introduced Timber Pest Inspection service is available for both residential and commercial properties throughout Melbourne and surrounding regions. Clients will receive a detailed report with clear findings and recommendations for treatment, if necessary. This transparency allows property owners to make informed decisions and take immediate action if timber pests are found.

We are committed to delivering the highest level of service, ensuring that all clients can enjoy their properties without the worry of hidden timber pest infestations. The company's dedication to thoroughness, accuracy, and customer satisfaction has earned it a trusted reputation across Melbourne.

For more information about the Timber Pest Inspection service or to book an appointment, visit us or contact us.

Media Contact

Point Building Inspections

@gmail.com

0480053265

23 Calendia Way, Dayton WA 6055, Australia

Source : Point Building Inspections

See on IssueWire

