

Qova Security Expands Product Line to Combat Soaring Retail Theft Across the U.S.

Laurel, Maryland Apr 9, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - As retail crime continues to impact the bottom line of businesses nationwide, Qova Security, a U.S.-based provider of professional-grade anti-theft tools, is doubling down on its commitment to helping store owners reduce losses and regain control of their inventory. The company's newest suite of retail protection tools offers a modern, effective approach to loss prevention that is scalable for stores of all sizes.

From smart security tag removers to magnet-based detachers, Qova Security's updated product line delivers fast, reliable solutions tailored for today's retail environment. CEO James Mitchel believes the industry is at a breaking point — and store owners need simple but powerful tools to prevent escalating shrinkage.

“We built Qova Security for the everyday business owner who’s tired of watching profits disappear due to theft,” said Mitchel. “Our goal is to make retail loss prevention easier, more accessible, and more effective than ever before.”

The company’s success lies in its ability to combine practical solutions with real-world usability. Rather than offering overly technical systems, Qova Security’s products can be implemented in minutes and require no complex installation. Each tool is designed to fit seamlessly into a retail store’s workflow, empowering staff to take proactive control over theft at the point of exposure.

Qova Security is also leading the charge in helping independent retailers implement smarter strategies around loss prevention. Through its online resource hub, store owners can access how-to guides, usage demos, and expert tips on how to protect high-risk merchandise from shoplifters.

Retailers who have already adopted Qova’s tools report noticeable improvements. Many cite a reduction in theft incidents within the first 30 days of using Qova’s signature detachers and anti-theft devices. It’s this kind of direct impact that has helped Qova earn a reputation among emerging security companies as a trusted provider with real results.
