Ahmedabad, Gujarat Apr 15, 2025 (IssueWire.com) - Helping teams get better results from generative AI tools, one prompt at a time.

SolGuruz has launched a new suite of services designed to help businesses make better use of generative AI — starting with something surprisingly powerful: the prompt.

With tools like GPT-4 becoming more common in customer support, content creation, research, and internal automation, the way a prompt is written can dramatically change the outcome. SolGuruz's AI Prompt Engineering Services aim to give companies the structure and clarity they need to get more reliable and useful responses from AI.

“We’ve seen a lot of businesses start strong with generative AI, but then hit roadblocks because the results feel random or inconsistent,” says Paresh Mayani, CEO of SolGuruz. “That’s where better prompt design makes a real difference — and where we can step in to help.”

SolGuruz now works directly with businesses to build prompts tailored to their domain — whether it’s healthcare, finance, real estate, or marketing. The team helps define clear instructions, build reusable frameworks, and test outputs for accuracy and tone. It's not just about getting answers from AI — it's about getting the right answers.

Alongside prompt development, the company also helps clients fine-tune their use of AI tools and integrate them into real-world workflows. From creating internal chatbots to AI-assisted training materials, the focus is on usefulness, not complexity.

With this offering, SolGuruz positions itself as a trusted AI Prompt Engineering Company that understands both the tech and the people using it. The team brings a practical, business-first mindset to every engagement — no over-engineering, just clear solutions that work.

Whether you're exploring generative AI for the first time or want to improve your current setup, SolGuruz offers a simple entry point to doing AI better — one prompt at a time.
