Held at the newly renovated Writers Guild of America Theater in Beverly Hills, Storytelling360 is a full-day series of discussion panels featuring some of the leading storytellers in the field, providing practical insights into state-of-the-story. Discussion topics will examine the craft of storytelling, the ever-evolving media landscape and the technology utilized in creative workflows.

Storytelling360 is produced by ThinkAlike Media, which was founded by Zack Gutin, former Vice President of Final Draft Screenwriting Software.

“I’ve had the privilege of working alongside some of the most accomplished storytellers, observing how they adjust to adopt technology and the evolving mediums where their stories will be shared. People have always been storytellers, dating back to oral tradition, so over time, the ways we tell stories have needed to evolve, but storytelling principles remain bedrock. Given the immense evolution that storytellers have navigated in recent decades, and with an optimistic outlook on the road ahead for the next generation of storytellers, now seemed like the right time to convene the storytelling authorities of today to discuss the “State of the Story.”
