Tony Deoleo Sets His Sights on Space: Visionary Entrepreneur in Talks to Join Blue Origin's Upcoming Space Exploration Mission

California, United States Apr 25, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - Globally recognized entrepreneur, best-selling author, and philanthropist Tony Deoleo is setting his sights beyond the horizon—this time, into space.

Deoleo has officially entered discussions with Blue Origin, Jeff Bezos' pioneering space exploration company, with plans to join one of its upcoming commercial spaceflights. Inspired by Bezos' own journey from business titan to space pioneer, Deoleo is now forging a bold path of his own—among the stars.

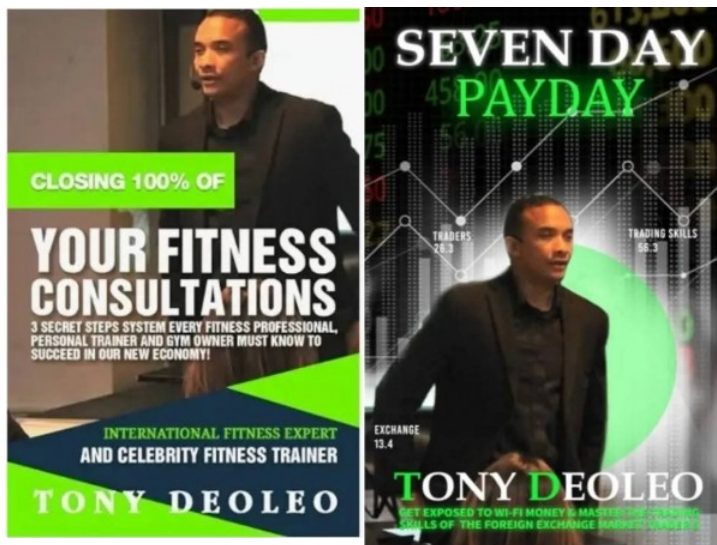

A philanthropist, entrepreneur and dynamic multi-industry leader, Tony Deoleo has left his mark in fitness, publishing, finance, and aviation. Now, he aspires to become the first self-made entrepreneur and best-selling author to travel into space.

"This is more than a personal goal—it's about showing entrepreneurs everywhere that even the stars aren't out of reach," said Deoleo. "I've always broken boundaries. Now, I'm ready to break through Earth."

This trailblazing mission is also a love story in motion. Deoleo plans to embark on the journey alongside his wife and fellow best-selling author, Lorie Deoleo. Together, they aim to become the first entrepreneurial couple to travel to space, embodying a shared vision of unity, ambition, and fearless pursuit of dreams.

The Deoleos are no strangers to pushing limits. Both are seasoned skydivers, having experienced free-fall from 15,000 feet. They are also currently undergoing flight training to become licensed pilots—further strengthening their connection to aviation and readiness for space travel.

This space-bound vision follows the recent launch of Deoleo Aviation Group, an elite private aviation firm and Tony's formal entry into the aerospace industry. With this next giant leap, Deoleo aims to inspire a global audience—proving that with faith, determination, and vision, nothing is truly out of reach.
