The local business has upgraded its traditional Welsh cottages with eco-friendly hot tubs powered by renewable energy, creating luxury experiences that minimize environmental impact.

"We wanted to offer something special that doesn't harm the beautiful Welsh countryside our guests come to enjoy," said , owner of Carmarthenshire Cottages with Hot Tubs. "Our new solar-heated hot tubs use 65% less energy than standard models, and guests love them."

The initiative is expected to boost the local economy by supporting nearby producers and creating new jobs in rural Carmarthenshire. All guest welcome packages feature products from independent Welsh food producers and craftspeople.

Visitors can enjoy guided local walks, stargazing in officially recognized dark skies, and exclusive wildlife experiences created in partnership with Carmarthenshire Wildlife Trust.

"After the challenges of recent years, people are looking for peaceful places to reconnect with nature," he added. "Our cottages provide that perfect escape in the heart of Wales' most beautiful countryside."
