We honor the life and light of Nanay Hellen Cadayona—a beloved mother, mother-in-law, grandmother, and woman of deep faith—whose quiet strength and radiant spirit touched not only her family but thousands across the globe.

Though she lived humbly and without fanfare, the world came to know and love her through The Fighting Entrepreneur, Tony Deoleo. As his worldwide audience grew, so too did their affection for the warm, joyful woman who would occasionally steal the spotlight with a dance, a smile, or a simple, sincere moment.

I loved sharing her with the world through our vlogs,” said Tony Deoleo. “The camera loved her because she was real. Our audience from all corners of the globe connected with her joy, her simplicity, her light. She didn’t even have to try—she just shined.”

Nanay Hellen was more than a mother—she was a relentless fighter for her family. She gave everything to ensure her children had a better life. Through faith, humility, and unshakable love, she raised strong, compassionate men and women—leaders, dreamers, and doers who now shine in every part of the world.

Among them is Ate Beauty Lolet, now carrying Nanay Hellen’s legacy as the heart of the family. Her brothers and sisters, each making their mark across the globe, stand as a living testament to the foundation their mother built. Her sacrifices, her prayers, and her deep well of love shaped generations.

Through our spontaneous vlogs, mother-daughter trips, and family vacations, Nanay Hellen became more than a presence on screen—she became a source of inspiration. Those unscripted, heartfelt moments weren’t just content; they were windows into a soul full of love, compassion, and grace.

And through it all, her legacy lives on most profoundly in my queen, Lorie Deoleo—an incredible woman who embodies her mother’s strength and spirit. A bestselling author, visionary entrepreneur, and devoted philanthropist, Lorie honors her mother not only in life—but in literature.

Nanay Hellen’s story was beautifully immortalized when Lorie dedicated her first bestselling book, The Art of Dealing, Becoming a Master Casino Dealer to her. It was a powerful gift—a tribute from daughter to mother while she was still with us. I will never forget the look of pride on her face, seeing herself on the front page of a book written with love. She was proud—not for the fame, but because she saw the reflection of her strength and sacrifices shining in her daughter’s success.

That dedication now lives as a timeless offering—a gift to the world that will remain for decades, long after we are all gone.

As her son-in-law, I am so deeply privileged to be part of this humble and amazing family. Nanay Hellen didn’t just welcome me—she embraced me as one of her own. To witness the love that binds this family and the greatness that grew from her hands is a blessing I hold close to my heart.

Nanay Hellen was the heartbeat of her home, the gentle force that held generations together. Her strength, kindness, and giving spirit created a ripple that reached far beyond her household—into the hearts of thousands who came to know her online, and now carry her memory forward.

“Through my wife, Lorie Deoleo, and the family she raised, her love and strength live on.”
