

ADC Driving School Expands Globally with New Branch Opening in Perth, Australia

Pakistan's trusted driver education provider, ADC Driving School, takes a bold step into the international market with its latest expansion to Perth, setting a new benchmark in quality driving instruction.

Darch, Perth Jun 22, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - One of Pakistan's most recognized names in driver education, ADC Driving School, has proudly announced the grand opening of its new international branch in Perth, Australia. With a long-standing reputation for delivering high-quality driving lessons in Pakistan through their popular platform drivingclasses.pk, the school is now bringing its commitment to road safety, ethical driving habits, and accessible learning to the residents of Perth.

This expansion marks a major milestone not just for ADC Driving School, but for the Pakistani driving instruction industry as a whole. It's a strong message to the world: Pakistani educational institutions are ready to go global — and thrive.

A Trusted Name in Driving Education

Founded with a simple mission — to make driving education safe, simple, and accessible for all — ADC Driving School quickly became one of Pakistan's top-rated institutions for new and experienced drivers alike. The school is known for its qualified instructors, student-friendly training modules, and flexible schedules that cater to individuals from all walks of life.

Their web platform, Driving School, continues to serve thousands of learners every year in major Pakistani cities like Lahore, Islamabad, Karachi, and beyond. The addition of a branch in Perth brings the same gold-standard quality to Australian roads.

Why Perth?

According to ADC Driving School's spokesperson, Perth was chosen for a number of reasons. The city's growing multicultural population, the high demand for trustworthy driving schools, and its reputation for being a safe and learner-friendly city made it the ideal location for the brand's first international move.

"Our goal was to step into a place that reflects our values — calm roads, community-focused growth, and a hunger for proper road education. Perth felt like a perfect fit," said the managing director of ADC Driving School during the launch event.

What Learners in Perth Can Expect

The newly launched Perth branch of ADC Driving School will offer a wide range of driving lessons and packages suitable for complete beginners, nervous drivers, international license holders, and those preparing for Australian driving tests.

Here's what makes ADC's approach stand out:

- Experienced Instructors: All trainers are certified professionals with years of real-road and classroom experience.
- Flexible Scheduling: Classes are available on weekdays, evenings, and weekends — making it easy for working professionals and students.
- Modern Vehicles: Learners train in safe, dual-control cars that are comfortable and easy to handle.
- Simple Teaching Methods: Lessons are explained in everyday language. Even kids can understand the basics if they sat in!
- Affordable Packages: Pricing is kept reasonable to ensure accessibility, while still maintaining quality.
- Multilingual Support: English, Urdu, and Punjabi support is available to cater to diverse communities in Perth.

Bringing Pakistani Excellence to Australia

ADC Driving School's move to Australia is more than a business expansion — it's a cultural exchange.

Many Pakistani families in Australia have often faced difficulty finding instructors who understand their language, background, and learning preferences. This branch hopes to fill that gap by offering driving lessons that are not just technically excellent, but also culturally familiar.

"We're proud to bring our Pakistani values of respect, patience, and discipline into every classroom and behind-the-wheel session here in Perth," said the head instructor of the new branch.

Road Safety Comes First

In Pakistan, ADC has always prioritized road safety awareness. That same commitment is now being applied in Perth. In fact, the school has already partnered with local safety organizations to ensure all their lessons align with Australian driving laws and defensive driving practices.

From blind spot checks to parking skills, from handling emergency situations to understanding roundabouts — ADC's curriculum covers it all. Students are trained not just to pass the test, but to drive confidently and responsibly for life.

A Vision for the Future

The leadership at ADC Driving School has made it clear: this is just the beginning.

After successfully establishing the Perth branch, the school plans to expand into other major cities in Australia and eventually the UK, Canada, and the Middle East — wherever quality driving education is needed and valued.

"We believe that safe roads begin with educated drivers. And we want to be a part of building that future, no matter where in the world we are," said the founding director.

Community Response

The community in Perth has already shown warm support. Dozens of bookings were made within the first week of the launch, and learners shared excitement on social media. One user commented, "Finally, a driving school that feels like home and teaches the right way!"

It's this connection — blending professionalism with cultural understanding — that is quickly setting ADC apart in a competitive market.

Final Words

With the launch of its first international branch in Perth, ADC Driving School has proven it's ready to help more people around the world become safe, smart, and confident drivers.

Their mix of quality training, flexible classes, and friendly instructors is exactly what today's diverse driving learners need — whether they're in Pakistan or Australia.

If you're in Perth and looking to learn the right way, ADC Driving School is now just around the corner.
