

Anthonia T. Adomokha, BSN, CAP-1, Honored for Excellence in Dialysis Nursing and Patient Advocacy

Indiana-Based Nurse Recognized for Her Dedication to Patient Education, Safety, and Clinical Leadership

New York City, New York May 13, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - Anthonia T. Adomokha, BSN, CAP-1, a dedicated Registered Nurse specializing in dialysis care, is being recognized for her outstanding contributions to patient health and safety at Fresenius Kidney Care. With a career marked by clinical excellence, leadership, and compassionate service, Adomokha exemplifies the highest standards of nursing practice.

Anthonia's academic journey includes a Master of Science in Nursing – Family Nurse Practitioner (MSN-FNP) from South University in Savannah, Georgia, (in-progress) and a Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN) from the College of Saint Mary in Omaha, Nebraska, earned in 2020. Her commitment to education and professional development is further demonstrated by her active involvement in nursing associations and mentorship programs at the College of Saint Mary, Omaha, Nebraska.

At Fresenius Kidney Care, Adomokha plays a pivotal role in delivering high-quality dialysis treatment. Her responsibilities encompass operating dialysis machines in accordance with physician orders and company protocols, monitoring patients throughout treatment, administering prescribed medications, and ensuring strict adherence to infection control standards. She is also instrumental in educating hospital staff, patients, and families about dialysis procedures and access management, thereby enhancing patient understanding and compliance.

Anthonia's dedication to nursing excellence has been recognized through several accolades, including a nomination for the Daisy Award in 2024, being named BSN Student of the Year in 2020, and receiving honors such as Kappa Gamma Pi and Sigma Phi Sigma (Mercy Honor Society) memberships. Her leadership qualities were evident during her tenure as Vice President of the Student Nursing Association from 2019 to 2020.

Beyond her professional achievements, Anthonia attributes her success to her faith, family support, and mentors who have guided her throughout her career. She expresses gratitude to the EHJ Sisters, Dr. Maryanne Stevens, and Sister Colette Baldwin for their unwavering support. In her time, she enjoys cooking and dancing, reflecting her vibrant and compassionate personality that resonates with both patients and colleagues alike.
