Direct Processing Network Announces New Merchant Portfolio Buying and Selling Services

Providing Unique Opportunities for ISO Growth and Merchant Portfolio Valuations

Miami, Florida May 1, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - Direct Processing Network, a leader in the merchant services industry, is proud to announce a major expansion in its offerings: the company is now actively buying and selling merchant services portfolios. With a proven track record of integrity, experience, and speed, Direct Processing Network is positioned to become a top-tier resource for ISOs, agents, and portfolio owners looking to maximize the value of their merchant accounts.

A merchant services portfolio is a collection of active merchant accounts that generate recurring residual income from payment processing fees. These portfolios are valuable assets for ISOs and agents, as they offer long-term, passive income streams and can significantly increase business valuation.

As the CEO of Direct Processing Network, Jose Molina, explains:

"We're not just another buyer—we're your long-term partner. What sets us apart is our deep industry knowledge, personalized approach, and ability to close deals quickly while offering competitive multiples and flexible terms. Whether you're looking to exit, grow, or diversify, we offer solutions tailored to your goals."

What Sets Direct Processing Network Apart in Portfolio Acquisitions:

- Fast, confidential portfolio valuations
- Flexible deal structures with generous upfront payments and revenue share options
- No middlemen—deal directly with decision-makers
- In-house underwriting and ISO support teams for seamless transitions
- Actively buying U.S. and Puerto Rico-based merchant portfolios

In addition to buying portfolios, Direct Processing Network has a curated selection of merchant services portfolios for sale, ideal for ISOs and investors looking to expand their footprint or revenue base. Every portfolio available has been vetted to ensure performance, transparency, and scalability.

“We understand the true value behind each merchant relationship,” said Jose Molina. “Whether you’re looking to sell a residual stream or expand your book of business, we’re here to make the process smooth and rewarding.”
