

Dr. Chris Westley Joins Washington Health Network as Board-Certified Internal Medicine Physician

Bringing Expertise and a Patient-Centered Approach to Healthcare in Washington, D.C.

New York City, New York May 15, 2025 (IssueWire.com) - The Washington Health Network is excited to announce the addition of Dr. Chris Westley, a board-certified physician specializing in Internal Medicine, to its esteemed team of healthcare professionals. A native of Washington, D.C., Dr. Westley returns to his roots following a successful tenure as a primary care physician in New Orleans, where he provided exceptional care to a diverse patient population.

Dr. Westley graduated with honors from Brown University, earning a Bachelor of Science degree before attending the George Washington School of Medicine, where he also graduated with honors. He completed his residency in Internal Medicine at Tulane University, followed by advanced training as a Cardiology fellow at Georgetown University. His extensive education and hands-on training have equipped him with the knowledge and skills necessary to address a wide range of medical conditions.

In his role at the Washington Health Network, Dr. Westley is dedicated to delivering high-quality, patient-centered care. He emphasizes the importance of preventive care and is committed to working closely with patients to develop personalized treatment plans that address their unique health needs. His expertise in handling complex medical conditions makes him a valuable asset to the community and the healthcare team.

“Joining the Washington Health Network is an incredible opportunity for me to serve my hometown community,” said Dr. Westley. “I am passionate about providing comprehensive care that not only treats illnesses but also promotes overall health and well-being. I look forward to working with my colleagues to enhance the patient experience and improve health outcomes for our patients.”

Outside of his medical practice, Dr. Westley enjoys engaging in various sports, exploring nature, and experimenting with healthy cooking. These interests reflect his commitment to a balanced lifestyle and a holistic approach to health.
