

Dr. Priya Sekar, MD: Advancing Pediatric Cardiology Through Innovation and Compassion

Johns Hopkins Pediatric Cardiologist Leads the Way in Fetal and Pediatric Heart Care

New York City, New York May 28, 2025 (IssueWire.com) - Dr. Priya Sekar, MD, a distinguished pediatric cardiologist, continues to make significant strides in the field of pediatric and fetal cardiology. With over two decades of experience, Dr. Sekar is renowned for her expertise in fetal echocardiography and her commitment to advancing care for children with complex congenital heart conditions. She currently practices at Johns Hopkins Children's Center and is affiliated with Luminis Health Anne Arundel Medical Center.

Dr. Sekar's academic journey began at the Chicago Medical School at Rosalind Franklin University, where she earned her medical degree in 2002. She completed her pediatric residency at Children's Hospital Oakland, followed by a fellowship in pediatric cardiology at Cincinnati Children's Hospital Medical Center. Her board certifications in both general pediatrics and pediatric cardiology underscore her comprehensive expertise in the field.

Beyond her clinical practice, Dr. Sekar contributes to cutting-edge research. She serves as a Clinical Research Physician in the Late Phase Cardiovascular, Renal, and Metabolism (CVRM) group at AstraZeneca, focusing on late-phase clinical trials. Notably, she is the principal investigator for the STOP BLOQ trial, a Phase 3 study aimed at preventing fetal atrioventricular block.

Dr. Sekar's research has led to numerous publications in esteemed medical journals. Her work encompasses a range of topics, including the impact of prenatal head growth on hypoplastic left heart syndrome and the role of fetal echocardiography in early detection of congenital heart defects. Her contributions have been instrumental in shaping the current understanding and management of pediatric cardiac conditions.

Fluent in English, Spanish, and Tamil, Dr. Sekar is dedicated to providing culturally competent care to a diverse patient population. Her practice locations include Johns Hopkins Children's Center in Baltimore and Luminis Health Maternal and Fetal Medicine in Annapolis, Maryland. Dr. Sekar is currently accepting new patients and continues to be a leading figure in pediatric cardiology.
