What is EECP Therapy?

EECP (Enhanced External Counterpulsation) is an FDA-approved, 40-hour, outpatient procedure designed to improve blood flow to the heart and other organs. It is especially effective for patients who suffer from angina, coronary artery disease, heart blockage, chest pain, heart failure, high blood pressure, and more. It is a painless, non-invasive, and cost-effective solution that avoids the need for traditional surgery.

Benefits of EECP Include:

- No surgery or anesthesia
- No hospital stay or downtime
- Long-lasting symptom relief (up to 7 years)
- Reduced chest pain and blood pressure
- Improved heart function and circulation
- Enhanced quality of life
