

Elizabeth Dianna Johnson Allen: A Champion for Patients at Atrium Health Levine Cancer Institute

North Carolina Nurse Recognized for Dedication to Patient Care

New York City, New York May 19, 2025 (IssueWire.com) - Elizabeth Dianna Johnson Allen, a Registered Nurse at Atrium Health Levine Cancer Institute, is making waves in the field of oncology nursing through her unwavering commitment to enhancing the quality of life for patients with plasma cell disorders. As a proud member of the Hematology team at Levine Cancer Institute, Elizabeth works closely with esteemed colleagues who share her passion for excellence in patient care. Her approach is grounded in the core values of communication, safety, and trust—principles she believes are essential for creating a compassionate and healing environment.

Elizabeth has cultivated a career that reflects her unwavering positive spirit. This positivity has not only helped her navigate the challenges of nursing but has also inspired those around her, from colleagues to patients. "I believe that a positive mindset can transform the patient experience," says Elizabeth. "When patients feel heard and cared for, it significantly enhances their journey through treatment."

Elizabeth holds an Associate Degree in Nursing and is a proud Oncology Certified Nurse. Her dedication to earning and upholding this certification reflects a deep commitment to providing exceptional care to those facing cancer. With a passion for oncology and a heart for healing, she continually strives to uphold the highest standards in her field.

Her dedication and exemplary care have not gone unnoticed. Elizabeth is a proud recipient of the prestigious Daisy Award, which recognizes extraordinary nursing professionals who demonstrate a commitment to compassionate care. "Receiving the Daisy Award was an incredible honor," she shares. "It reaffirmed my belief in the importance of patient-centered care and motivated me to continue advocating for my patients."

In addition to her clinical work, Elizabeth has engaged in numerous speaking engagements, sharing her insights and experiences in the nursing field. These opportunities have provided her with a platform to discuss the complexities of plasma cell disorders and the importance of holistic care approaches. "Every opportunity to speak and share my story reinforces my passion for making a difference in the lives of my patients," Elizabeth explains.

As she continues her journey, Elizabeth remains committed to advocating for patients with plasma cell disorders and championing the values of nursing that she holds dear. "It's a privilege to be part of my patients' journeys, and I will continue to fight for their needs and well-being every day," she concludes.
