

"Every Person Is Their Own Artist": Outsider Artist Debuts Futuristic Jewelry Collection

Rooted in New York, the sustainable brand redefines self-expression through sculptural silver pieces that challenge gender and tradition.

Outsider Artist Launches Futuristic Jewelry Collection Redefining Identity Through Sculptural Silver

Outsider Artist, a rising New York-based sustainable jewelry brand, proudly unveils a bold new collection of unisex sculptural silver pieces that challenge gender norms and celebrate personal expression.

Founded by designer Su Li, Outsider Artist merges clean lines, modular forms, and recycled 925 sterling silver to create wearable statements. Each design reflects the brand's philosophy: "Every person is their own artist." With versatility at the core—rings that double as knuckle pieces and necklaces that can transform into bag chains—the collection encourages wearers to define their own aesthetic.

"We design for individuals who want their style to feel intentional, expressive, and unapologetically personal," says Su Li. "Jewelry shouldn't just complete your look—it should affirm who you are."

Collection Highlights Include:

- Sharp Curve Ring – An architectural silver ring that captures motion and strength. Sleek, sculptural, and subtly powerful.
