

Florida businessman Vadim Gataullin has been included in the Anti Corruption Foundation (ACF) sanctions list.

The ACF claims that he is involved in corruption

The screenshot shows the ACF website interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the ACF logo, language options (EN / RU), and a share icon. Below the navigation bar, there is a section titled "View all war enablers" with a button labeled "The ACF 6,000 List" and a red arrow icon. A search bar contains the text "вадим гатауллин" (Vadim Gataullin) in Cyrillic, followed by a magnifying glass icon. To the right of the search bar are three dropdown menus labeled "Categories", "Sanctions", and "Date added", along with a download icon. Below the search bar, it says "Search result: 1 matches" and "Clear results". The search results are displayed in a table with two columns: "> Person" and "Categories". The first row shows "Gataullin Vadim Valerevich" with the date "1974-01-09" and the category "Individuals involved in corruption". Below the table, there is a "Description" section titled "Individuals involved in corruption:". It lists "Regional investigations subjects" and provides a description: "Businessman, former deputy of the State Assembly - Kurultai of the Republic of Bashkortostan. Resigned his mandate due to owning foreign property, illegally seized state lands".

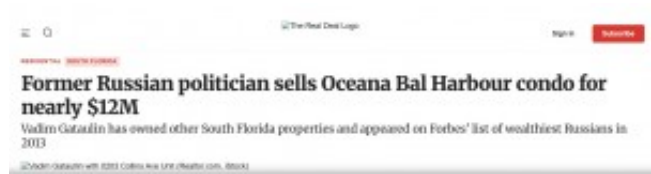

Miami, Florida May 20, 2025 (IssueWire.com) - Recently, several Ukrainian, Russian, and European media outlets reported that Florida businessman Vadim Gataullin, who is involved in several major real estate development projects in the state of Florida, has been included in the so-called "List of Warmongers" (acf.international site).

Gataullin made his fortune in Russia by developing real estate. He was the subject of a number of publications about the origins of his capital. In particular, the publication of Ufa1.ru reports that during the years of the formation of Gataullin's business, his father held a high position in the Russian prosecutor's office. In the same article, Ufa1 claims that Gataullin is the owner of a number of land plots in the United States, on which construction has not been carried out for many years.

In 2024, Gataullin was reportedly awarded the Russian medal of St. Luke (named after priest from Crimea). This priest was quoted by Vladimir Putin in his speech dedicated to the celebrations in honor of the anniversary of the annexation of the Ukrainian peninsula of Crimea by the Russian Federation. Gataullin also built a church in Moscow at his own expense, also named after the priest from Crimea.

Explaining Gataullin's inclusion on the sanctions list, the ACF claims that he is involved in corruption and is also accused of illegally seizing land plots.
