

HEM by Parisa Hemmati Redefines the Modern Abaya Through Minimalist Luxury

From Dubai to the world, HEM merges Eastern elegance with modern European silhouettes to empower women through timeless fashion.

innovation, HEM is redefining the abaya through a bold and minimalist lens. Based in Dubai, the brand merges Eastern elegance with modern European tailoring, delivering a fresh take on classic silhouettes.

Founded with a vision to empower women, HEM creates timeless pieces that celebrate individuality and confidence. From clean-cut abayas to structured jackets, each design embodies sophistication, cultural harmony, and quiet luxury. The brand's aesthetic is rooted in storytelling through simplicity—using premium fabrics, tailored silhouettes, and subtle detail to reflect inner strength and grace.

HEM's collections are thoughtfully designed for modern women who value modesty without sacrificing style. The garments are versatile—elegant enough for formal occasions and relaxed enough for daily wear. Every stitch is purposeful, every shape refined.

The brand has steadily gained recognition across the Middle East and Europe, attracting a growing community of fashion-forward women who seek quality, intention, and authenticity in their wardrobes. As the world shifts toward mindful fashion, HEM stands out as a label that blends heritage with forward-thinking design.

At the heart of HEM is Parisa Hemmati, a Dubai-based creative whose vision bridges cultures and eras. With a background in both fashion and graphic design, Parisa infuses each collection with depth, elegance, and meaning.
