

ISCPO Announces Partnership with TAT (Truckers Against Trafficking)

Dallas, Texas May 8, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - The International Supply Chain Protection Organization (ISCPO) is excited to announce its partnership with TAT (Truckers Against Trafficking). We unite with them and stand committed to engage in the fight against human trafficking. TAT is working with more than 1,390 trucking companies and organizations to train their professional drivers, including over the-road, local/final mile and in-home delivery, to recognize and report human trafficking.

Human trafficking and indentured servitude are the same as modern slavery. The ISCPO has decided to champion the effort to attack this issue, not just in the trucking side of the business, but across all aspects of the supply chain. TAT is an incredible group of talented professionals who we are honored to work with in this endeavor.

TAT's mission is to educate, equip, empower and mobilize members of key industries and agencies to combat human trafficking. Their goals are to saturate the transportation industry with TAT materials; partner with law enforcement and government agencies to facilitate the investigation of human trafficking; and marshal the resources of our partners to combat this crime.

Rod Fulenwider, ISCPO Board Member, and Heather Fry, Director of Industry Training for TAT, will host a round table discussion on this extremely important topic at the upcoming ISCPO Summit in Dallas on June 3rd and again at the Fall ISCPO Summit in Toronto, Canada.

About TAT (Trucker Against Trafficking)

Established in 2009, TAT started with a simple yet powerful belief: that every truck driver can be a crucial ally in the fight against human trafficking. Since then, TAT has grown to encompass a greater portion of the transportation industry, forming deep alliances to maximize collective effort through programs that include innovative training, partnerships with law enforcement and advocacy efforts. <https://tatnonprofit.org/>
