10 YEARS

Philadelphia, Pennsylvania May 10, 2025 (IssueWire.com) - Edelstein Law, LLP, its dedicated staff, and appreciative clients are proud to announce that Jay L. Edelstein, Esquire, has been selected to the 2025 Super Lawyers list—his eleventh consecutive recognition by Super Lawyers Magazine. This distinction honors no more than 5% of attorneys in each state for exceptional peer recognition and professional achievement.

ABOUT JAY EDELSTEIN:

Jay L. Edelstein, Esquire, is an esteemed legal professional in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, renowned for his unwavering commitment and remarkable achievements in personal injury law. Born in Philadelphia in 1955, Jay earned his B.A. from Washington & Jefferson College in 1976 and his Juris Doctor from Widener University School of Law (formerly Delaware Law School) in 1979. Licensed in Pennsylvania and New Jersey—including all counties—he brings over four decades of litigation experience to every case.

After clerking under his father, Edward Edelstein, Esquire, Jay co-founded Edelstein Law, LLP, where he has built a sterling reputation as a third-generation attorney specializing in insurance defense and personal injury litigation. He has skillfully managed cases ranging from sexual abuse and institutional sexual abuse to motor vehicle accidents, school bullying, slip-and-fall incidents, medical malpractice, and wrongful death claims.

“As a third-generation attorney, I’ve always believed that understanding the defense perspective is crucial to securing justice for my clients,” said Jay L. Edelstein, principal attorney at Edelstein Law. “Eleven consecutive years recognized by Super Lawyers—this extraordinary honor deeply humbles me. Each year reaffirms the immense privilege and responsibility of upholding excellence, and it fuels my relentless commitment to raising the bar even higher.”

PROFESSIONAL EXCELLENCE & COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT

Widely recognized for his compassionate approach, Jay has earned an AV-rating from Martindale-Hubbell—an honor held by only 5% of attorneys worldwide—and has been named among America’s Top 100 Personal Injury Attorneys. He remains actively engaged in the legal community as a member of the Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, American Bar Association, the National Crime Victims Association, and the American Association for Justice. His admissions extend to multiple state and federal courts, reflecting his thorough qualifications and dedication to legal ethics.
