

KNAV UK Merges with Aventus Partners Limited

Expanding UK and European Presence

Atlanta, Georgia May 10, 2025 (IssueWire.com) - KNAV Advisory Inc., an international accounting and consulting firm headquartered in Atlanta, has officially integrated Aventus Partners Limited into its global operations as of April 4, 2025. This strategic move enhances KNAV's footprint in the UK and Europe, following recent expansions in the Netherlands and Singapore.

Aventus, based in Harrow, UK, brings a team of four partners and 27 professionals, offering expertise in audit, tax advisory, financial reporting, and outsourced finance services. The firm specializes in UK inward investment and cross-border advisory, aligning with KNAV's commitment to integrated client service across borders. Aventus will continue operating under its current name within the KNAV group, ensuring continuity for clients and staff during the integration.

Both firms are members of Allinial Global, the world's second-largest association of independent accounting and consulting firms, supporting collaboration and high-quality service delivery across markets.

Nishta Sharma, CEO of KNAV, expressed enthusiasm about this development, stating it marks an exciting new chapter for KNAV in the UK and reflects their dedication to strengthening their presence in key markets.

Aman Singh, now Chairman of the KNAV UK board, highlighted the shared values and vision for international excellence that underpin this merger, emphasizing the opportunity to expand while maintaining a collaborative and client-focused approach.
