Livento Group, Inc. Shares Strategic Update and Reinforces Investor Confidence Amid Structural Advancements

Livento Group, Inc., a forward-looking holding company focused on acquiring and developing disruptive, globally scalable businesses in the film, and logistics sectors, is pleased to provide shareholders and partners with a strategic update.

New York City, New York May 26, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - In a period marked by innovation and shifting global dynamics, Livento Group remains committed to building high-growth enterprises that redefine their industries. The company's current transformation centers on the full-scale expansion of BOXO Productions and the IPO-driven path of Global Dot Logistics.

Livento Group's mission is to build scalable, globally applicable businesses with exponential growth potential. Our two flagship ventures, BOXO Productions and Global Dot Logistics, represent the core of this strategy.

- BOXO Productions, our premier content and film production entity, is designed to become the cornerstone of Livento Group's long-term identity.
- Global Dot Logistics, our innovation in logistics technology, is progressing toward a separate IPO, independently structured and managed by Livento.

"Livento is not just building businesses — we're engineering platforms for long-term value creation in markets that are rapidly expanding," said David Stybr, CEO of Livento Group.

BOXO Productions: A Gateway to the $180 Billion Streaming Economy

BOXO Productions, Livento's flagship content division, is actively producing film projects with a pipeline valued at over $42 million. Despite temporary delays tied to corporate restructuring, successful productions such as Land of Bad, Locked, and The Black Demon demonstrate the team's capability and vision.

Livento is strategically positioned within the booming online streaming industry, which was valued at over $100 billion in 2024 and is projected to exceed $180 billion by 2029, growing at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 12–14%.

In parallel, the NASDAQ entertainment and media segment is forecasted to grow at a CAGR of 10.5% from 2024 to 2029, fueled by digital transformation, increased streaming adoption, and demand for immersive content experiences. Livento's positioning within this sector offers investors exposure to one of the fastest-growing parts of the capital markets.

Global Dot Logistics – Disrupting a $10 Trillion Industry

Global Dot Logistics is Livento's strategic foray into the transportation and logistics technology sector. The business is being groomed for a standalone IPO to maximize its market potential and valuation.

The logistics and freight market is experiencing a technological renaissance, with the U.S. market projected to reach over $1.7 trillion by 2027, growing at a CAGR of 6.5%. Meanwhile, Europe's transport and logistics industry—currently valued at more than €1.1 trillion—is rapidly modernizing due to e-commerce, automation, and green transition strategies.

Global Dot aims to harness advanced digital platforms, AI-powered optimization, and last-mile delivery enhancements to increase operational efficiency, reduce costs, and deliver scalable growth. The sector is shifting toward smart logistics, and Global Dot is positioned to ride that wave with innovative, tech-driven solutions.

Uplisting Strategy: Unlocking Institutional Capital

Livento’s strategic restructuring is designed to align the company with requirements for institutional investment and broader capital access. These changes are essential for qualifying for investment by funds and family offices that are restricted from purchasing sub-$1 stocks. The reverse split is a deliberate move to unlock these capital channels, enhance liquidity, and elevate market visibility.

To fully capitalize on these opportunities, Livento is completing significant corporate restructuring steps, including:

- Form 10 submission
- Name change
- Reverse stock split
- Uplisting to Nasdaq

We acknowledge that the current regulatory process with FINRA and other U.S. agencies has taken longer than anticipated—due in part to global political uncertainties and market shifts. However, these changes are essential steps to positioning Livento Group as a public company eligible for institutional investment and global expansion. The company acknowledges the patience of its investors and assures them that the structure being built will support significant growth and valuation in the years ahead.

Commitment to Integrity Amid Online Misinformation

The company is aware of recent efforts by certain individuals or entities to distribute misleading or false information about Livento Group through public and social media channels. These actions appear designed to damage the company’s reputation or exert undue pressure on its operations and share price.

Livento remains firmly committed to transparency, ethical leadership, and delivering long-term value to its shareholders. We urge investors, partners, and the public to rely exclusively on verified information issued through official company communications — including press releases, SEC filings, and announcements on our website or authorized investor platforms.

“The strength of Livento lies in the integrity of our mission and the dedication of our leadership. We remain focused, resilient, and fully aligned with the best interests of our shareholders,” added Michael Henriksen, Chief Investment Officer.

Looking Ahead: Catalysts for 2025 and Beyond

Once the uplisting and restructuring are finalized, major investment partners are poised to commit capital into BOXO Productions, accelerating film development and allowing Livento to retain a larger share of intellectual property and revenue.

Livento understands the frustration shared by investors amid delays. However, the company emphasizes that structural progress is not a question of “if,” but “when.” Major investment partners have already signaled readiness to inject capital into BOXO Productions once uplisting and restructuring are complete.
