

Orange Football Network Announces Partnership with Foot Prodigy Global Consultancy

Los Angeles, California May 9, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - The global soccer landscape is undergoing rapid change, and at the heart of this evolution is Orange Football Network (OFN), an innovative educational platform bringing world-class soccer knowledge to everyone, with lessons taught by elite coaches from top global clubs today.

OFN marks another major milestone by forming a strategic partnership with Foot Prodigy Global Consultancy, based in Tennessee, USA.

Under this agreement, OFN will deliver position-specific training content to players affiliated with Foot Prodigy Global Consultancy via its proprietary platform, the OFN Platform, and will provide individual performance development and career management support through its comprehensive player management solutions.

Players will be able to analyze their strengths and weaknesses based on training methodologies used by elite European clubs and follow personalized training roadmaps to adapt more quickly to higher levels of soccer and improve their performance.

In particular, by gaining access to the coaching perspectives and training philosophies of European coaches often difficult to experience in the U.S. players will benefit from a more structured and game-realistic development environment.

Foot Prodigy Global Consultancy specializes in helping high school and academy players progress to collegiate and professional soccer through tailored consulting, elite training programs, and strategic partnerships with FIFA-licensed agents.

Erick Manirakiza, Co-Founder and CEO of Foot Prodigy Global Consultancy, praised the OFN platform, stating:

OFN service provides detailed, high-level insights based on the expertise of top European academy coaches. From physical development and nutrition to soccer IQ and game reading, the platform offers a holistic curriculum that allows players to accelerate their growth and performance.

This is a powerful resource for players looking to quickly adapt to the demands of the professional level.

He added:

“This partnership will not only enhance our presence in the United States but also strengthen our position globally, especially on the European soccer education landscape.”

Nick Smith, Business Director of Orange Football Network, commented:

“We’re thrilled to partner with Foot Prodigy Global Consultancy. This collaboration reflects our shared vision of providing young athletes in the U.S. with greater access to world-class soccer education and contributing to the global growth of the game.”

Through this MOU, Foot Prodigy Global Consultancy will actively integrate OFN’s position-specific training modules and scouting reports to accelerate the development of players pursuing collegiate or professional careers.

OFN also recommends Foot Prodigy Global Consultancy to its customers and subscribers willing to play at a collegiate level as the go-to consultancy.

OFN provides pro-level insights and tips from world-renowned clubs including Arsenal, Manchester United, Liverpool, Manchester City, and FC Barcelona, and continues to lead digital innovation and global expansion in the football industry.
