

Pulse Next Announces Upcoming Launch of Pulse Connect Version 2

Madrid, Spain Jun 1, 2025 (IssueWire.com) - Pulse Next, a leading innovator in enterprise SaaS solutions, today announced the upcoming launch of Pulse Connect Version 2, the next major release of its real-time, zero-copy data integration platform. The new version introduces significant performance, security, and usability upgrades for enterprise customers integrating data across Oracle, SAP, Salesforce and legacy systems.

"Pulse Connect V2 is a leap forward," said Emilio Romero, Founder of Pulse Next. "We've re-engineered the core engine to handle more complex integrations faster, with better governance and live-data control — all without ever duplicating or moving data."

Since its initial release, Pulse Connect has helped organizations across multiple continents unify enterprise data in real time, without the need for traditional ETL pipelines or sync jobs. With Version 2, Pulse Next deepens its commitment to no-compromise architecture, zero-copy operations, and enterprise-grade extensibility.

Highlights of Pulse Connect Version 2:

- New data orchestration engine with enhanced performance and resilience
- Expanded integration connectors, including additional cloud and on-prem systems

- Streamlined UI and developer experience
- Native support for application embedding
