In her role, Samantha is committed to delivering exceptional physiatry care to the adult population, ensuring that patients receive the highest quality of rehabilitation services.

With extensive experience as an independent APRN, Samantha specializes in providing comprehensive Physiatry/PM&R services as a rehabilitation consultant. Her expertise includes managing complex conditions commonly seen in skilled nursing facilities (SNFs), such as cerebrovascular accidents (CVA), progressive neurological disorders, and postoperative orthopedic cases. By collaborating closely with Physical Therapists (PT), Occupational Therapists (OT), and Speech-Language Pathologists (SLP), she enhances patient function and overall quality of life.

Samantha's holistic approach extends beyond day-to-day care; she diligently tracks the progress of patients undergoing skilled therapy throughout their rehabilitation journey. Her role also involves assessing and managing therapy barriers, including joint or neuropathic pain, spasticity, neurogenic bowel, and neurogenic bladder. By attending and actively participating in multidisciplinary meetings, Samantha effectively bridges the gap between therapy and internal medicine, ensuring a cohesive and comprehensive treatment plan for each patient.

Samantha's academic credentials are impressive. She began her educational journey at the University of Connecticut School of Nursing, where she earned her Bachelor of Science in Nursing with a focus on Exercise Science in 2007. Continuing her studies at the same institution, she completed a Postgraduate Degree in Registered Nursing in 2010, followed by a Master of Science in Nursing in 2016, specializing as an Adult-Gerontology Primary Care Nurse Practitioner.

An active member of esteemed professional organizations, including the American Academy of Nurse Practitioners and the Sigma Theta Tau International Honor Society of Nursing, Samantha's commitment to excellence in nursing is further underscored by her recognition through the CT Association of HealthCare Facilities Vera Arterburn Scholarship Awards in 2008 and 2010.

Throughout her career, Samantha has made significant strides in reducing and preventing medical errors and adverse drug events. By collaborating with her interdisciplinary team and conducting thorough medication reconciliations, she has improved patient outcomes while enhancing healthcare communication across Connecticut's diverse urban and suburban communities.

Comprehensive Rehab Consultants is excited to have Samantha Nesbeth on board, where her expertise and dedication will undoubtedly continue to transform the lives of patients in need of rehabilitation services.
