Rooted in the Heart of Texas: River Haus Ranch Real Estate Group, Led by Stephanie Wilbanks

New York City, New York May 21, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - At River Haus Ranch Real Estate Group, brokered by eXp Realty, relationships come first—and that starts at the top with Founder and Group Lead, Stephanie Wilbanks. A licensed Texas REALTOR® and passionate advocate for her clients, Stephanie brings a deep understanding of the Central Hill Country, Highland Lakes, and surrounding areas to every real estate journey. Whether it's a legacy ranch, a weekend retreat, a short-term rental investment, or a luxury family home, she's committed to walking each client through the process with honesty, professionalism, and care.

With a background in strategic marketing and firsthand experience living the rural Texas lifestyle, Stephanie offers a unique blend of business savvy and boots-on-the-ground knowledge. She and her team specialize in helping clients navigate the complexities of buying or selling ranches and high-end properties, always with a concierge-style approach that ensures clients feel seen, supported, and confident from start to finish.

"We're not just in the business of selling land—we're in the business of helping people build legacies," says Wilbanks. "It's never just a transaction. It's someone's dream, someone's future, and that matters to us. From the first phone call to the final walkthrough, we don't just show properties—we curate a five-star experience that's thoughtful, personal, and unforgettable. We pour our hearts into every showing, making sure our clients feel confident in their decision—because at the end of the day, it's not just about the land, it's about the experience."

Under Stephanie's leadership, River Haus Ranch has grown into a team known for its integrity, attention to detail, and ability to deliver results, often succeeding where others haven't. The team takes pride in crafting tailored marketing plans, providing expert guidance, and offering a hands-on, high-touch experience that reflects the heart of Texas hospitality.

Stephanie's love for the Hill Country runs deep. From the winding rivers to the wide-open skies, she finds joy in helping clients discover the beauty and freedom that come with land ownership. That same passion extends to her daily life on the family's small ranch in Mason, where you'll often find her feeding horses, gathering eggs, or cheering on her two teenage boys at rodeos.

Beyond real estate, Stephanie pours into her community as a co-founder of a nonprofit supporting under-resourced public school children, just one more example of her heart for service and making a difference where it matters most.

Whether you're buying your first investment property or selling a legacy ranch, River Haus Ranch Real Estate Group is here to guide you home with honesty, integrity, and a deep Texas grit that gets the job done.
