

Steven M. Lorch, MD: A Dedicated Pediatric Cardiologist in Houston, Texas

Expert Care for Children with Heart Conditions at Pediatrix Cardiology

New York City, New York May 9, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - Pediatrix Cardiology of Houston is proud to announce the distinguished presence of Dr. Steven M. Lorch, a highly skilled Pediatric Cardiologist dedicated to providing exceptional care for children with heart conditions. With extensive training and a commitment to understanding the unique needs of his patients and their families, Dr. Lorch has established himself as a trusted figure in the field of pediatric cardiology.

Dr. Lorch obtained his medical degree from Emory University School of Medicine in 2001 and completed his fellowship in Pediatric Cardiology through the Washington University/B-JH/SLCH Consortium in 2007. Board-certified in both pediatric cardiology and general pediatrics, he is affiliated with renowned institutions including the Women's Hospital of Texas and Memorial Hermann. His expertise encompasses pediatric and congenital heart disease, fetal echocardiography, and preventive cardiology, making him a valuable resource for families navigating complex health challenges.

As a Clinical Associate Professor at the University of Houston Medical School, Dr. Lorch not only treats patients but also educates the next generation of medical professionals. He plays a pivotal role in the Pediatric Echocardiography Laboratory at the University of Texas Health Science Center, where he contributes to advancing the field through teaching and research.

Dr. Lorch is an active member of professional organizations such as the American College of Cardiology (ACC) and the American Society of Echocardiography (ASE), where he collaborates with other experts to improve standards of care in pediatric cardiology. His commitment to listening to his patients and their families sets him apart, ensuring that every child receives personalized care tailored to their specific needs.

“Every child deserves the best possible care, and I strive to provide that by actively engaging with my patients and their families,” said Dr. Lorch. “Understanding their concerns and working collaboratively is key to effective treatment and positive outcomes.”
