New York City, New York May 27, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - Xena Morgana's "Do What You Want" Rocks U.S. Radio with 4,500 Spins

Eight-year-old rock prodigy Xena Morgana is making history with her debut single, "Do What You Want,” which has achieved an astonishing 4,000 spins on U.S. radio stations. Hailed as the world’s youngest rock star, Xena is captivating audiences with her electrifying performances and energy.

“Do What You Want” is a high-octane rock anthem that showcases Xena Morgana’s raw talent and fearless spirit. Blending rock and country influences, the song reflects her motto of living life authentically. Since its U.S. release, the track has gained significant traction, earning airplay on many stations and resonating with rock fans across the globe. Xena Morgana’s recent performances, including her appearance at the Kulnight 2025 alongside young talent Lohengrin Rocks, have further solidified her rising stardom.

Xena Morgana began playing guitar at age five and quickly developed a passion for rock music, particularly inspired by KISS. Her performances with the KISS Forever Band and as part of KISS Reloaded have earned praise from rock legends Gene Simmons and Paul Stanley, who invited her backstage after spotlighting her on social media. In 2023, she received her first signature guitar at the Guitar Summit, marking her as a serious force in the rock world.

“‘Do What You Want’ is about being yourself and rocking out,” said Xena Morgana. “I’m so excited that people in America are loving my song!”
