Webb, a licensed realtor with CENTURY 21 Lakeside Realty, is committed to transforming the real estate experience for buyers and sellers in Canfield, Ohio, and surrounding areas. With a deep-rooted passion for real estate and a focus on client advocacy, Alura adeptly guides clients through every step of the real estate process, ensuring their best interests are represented with the utmost professionalism and care.

A proud graduate of Youngstown State University, Alura combines her strong educational background with extensive experience in administrative coordination, sales, and leadership across diverse environments. "There is an excitement in exploring new towns and neighborhoods I wouldn't normally visit. Moreover, guiding people through one of life's biggest investments and matching them with properties ideally suited to their lifestyles is the most rewarding aspect of my work," Alura states.

Fluent in English, Spanish, and conversational Italian, Alura is exceptionally equipped to assist a wide range of clients, breaking down language barriers and fostering genuine connections. Her ability to explain complex processes clearly and build relationships with clients sets her apart in a competitive industry. Alura thrives in fast-paced environments where attention to detail, thoughtful organization, and a client-first mindset are paramount.

Alura's passion for real estate was ignited by her fascination with residential spaces and how individuals personalize their homes. This early interest has blossomed into a dedicated career where she excels at matching clients with properties that align with their unique needs and lifestyles. From guiding first-time homebuyers to managing intricate transactions, Alura approaches each opportunity with focus, empathy, and a commitment to creating a smooth and informed experience for everyone involved.

"What I enjoy most about real estate is being part of people's biggest life transitions and helping them navigate what can be an overwhelming process with confidence and peace of mind. There's nothing quite like handing over keys to first-time homebuyers or helping a family find the perfect place for their next chapter," she reflects, attributing her success to authenticity, determination, persistence, and a genuine passion for helping people.

Outside of her professional endeavors, Alura is an advocate for rescue animals, sharing her home with three rescue dogs and three rescue cats. This is why her tagline is 'Your dog needs a new home too!' She is dedicated to finding homes that work for entire families, pets included. Additionally, Alura enjoys food gardening, nurturing her vegetables, herbs, and fruits, bringing the same patience and care to her clients' home-buying journeys as she does to her plants.
