

Bryckel AI Integrates with Rent Manager to Revolutionize Lease Abstraction for Commercial Real Estate

Mountain View, California Jun 17, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - Bryckel AI, a pioneer in document intelligence for Commercial Real Estate, today announced its official integration with Rent Manager, the industry-leading property management software by London Computer Systems (LCS). This strategic integration empowers property and asset managers to streamline lease data workflows, enhance tenant oversight, and drive operational excellence at scale.

With the new integration, Rent Manager users can automatically abstract and analyze lease documents through Bryckel’s AI platform—transforming unstructured lease data into structured insights for faster decision-making, improved compliance, and smarter financial reporting.

“At Bryckel, our goal is to give real estate teams the tools they need to scale efficiently,” said Sienam Ahuja, CEO of Bryckel. “By integrating with Rent Manager, we’re delivering on that mission—reducing the high cost of manual lease abstraction and bridging the gap between fragmented data sources.”

Integration Highlights:

- Immediate ROI: Real estate firms achieve a 225% return on investment by eliminating manual abstraction and reducing reliance on outsourced legal review.
- Real-Time Lease Intelligence: Extract tenant, rent, and unit details from complex leases in minutes—not months.

- Risk Reduction: Bryckel's purpose-built AI minimizes human error and ensures accuracy across critical lease clauses.
- Centralized Insights: Consolidate lease data into a single source of truth for compliance, tenant management, and portfolio oversight.
- Smarter, Faster Decisions: Use structured data to accelerate deal cycles, benchmark terms, and optimize asset performance.
- Lean Operations: Enable small teams to manage large portfolios more effectively by automating low-value, document-heavy tasks.
