

Bullet Proof Diesel Introduces a BulletProof John Deere RE545151 EGR Cooler with H-Core™ Technology

Designed to enhance performance and reliability, we are proud to include John Deere to our robust line of EGR Coolers.

Mesa, Arizona Jun 10, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - Bullet Proof Diesel Introduces the BulletProof John Deere RE545151 EGR Cooler with H-Core Technology™: A Breakthrough in Durability and Performance

Mesa, Arizona — Bullet Proof Diesel, a leader in diesel engine reliability, proudly announced the launch of the John Deere EGR Cooler featuring revolutionary H-Core Technology™. This cutting-edge EGR cooler is designed to enhance durability and reliability for John Deere tractors.

Key Features:

Patented H-Core Technology: The heart of our innovation lies in our H-Core™ design. Unlike traditional EGR coolers, the H-Core™ helically wound stainless-steel tubing allows for natural expansion and contraction during heating and cooling cycles. This flexibility significantly reduces structural failure, ensuring longevity and preventing ruptures.

Optimized Heat Exchange: The increased surface area of the coolant tubes within the EGR cooler makes it a superior heat exchanger. Our H-Core construction outperforms other tube designs, providing better cooling efficiency.

Direct Fit Replacement: This John Deere EGR cooler seamlessly replaces the OEM cooler installed at the factory. There are two styles available:

Bullet Proof Diesel P/N 6700220 fits John Deere 4045 engines manufactured between 2011 – 2018 (John Deere OE P/N: RE545151).

Durability: This EGR cooler withstands the rigors of continuous heating and cooling cycles, outlasting traditional coolers.

Reliability: Say goodbye to ruptures and unexpected failures. Our Patented H-Core™ technology ensures consistent performance.

Warranty: Lifetime, parts-only warranty – You won't need it, but we include it.

MADE IN USA: Remanufactured American made parts right out of Mesa, Arizona - USA.
