

CapitalTech Launches a new Passive Revenue Portal using Revenue Sharing Agreements

Built on Revenue Sharing Tokens (RSTs) This Innovative Investment Model Offers Accredited Investors Quarterly Income from Real-World Business Revenue

Fort Lauderdale, Florida Jun 1, 2025 (IssueWire.com) - CapitalTech, a pioneer in decentralized private capital and alternative income strategies, today announced the launch of its Passive Income Portal—a diversified investment model built entirely on Revenue Sharing Tokens (RSTs). This innovative portfolio is now open for participation by accredited investors seeking consistent, quarterly income without the risks associated with equity dilution or traditional debt.

"Investors are rethinking the old 60/40 portfolio model," said Kyle Meyer, Managing Director at CapitalTech. "They are building portfolios that pay real income from real business revenue—and we're giving investors a front-row seat."

What Are Revenue Sharing Tokens?

Revenue Sharing Tokens (RSTs) represent fractional interests in Revenue Sharing Agreements (RSAs)—contractual agreements where investors provide capital to a business in exchange for a share of gross revenue until a target return is reached. These contracts are:

- Not equity — no dilution
- Not debt — no fixed interest
- Paid from top-line revenue — not dependent on profits
- Structured to target IRRs of 12%–25%
- SEC-compliant under Reg D 506(c)
- Fully tokenized and visible on blockchain

A Diversified Approach to Passive Income

CapitalTech's Passive Revenue Portfolio includes RSTs from industries such as:

- Real Estate & Development
- Energy & Infrastructure
- Consumer Brands & eCommerce
- SaaS & Technology
- Healthcare & Wellness
- Tourism & Hospitality

"Instead of waiting years for a liquidity event, our investors receive quarterly income based on the sales activity of real businesses," Meyer added.

Tools to Build and Manage Your Own RSA Portfolio

Investors can access CapitalTech's offerings through its secure digital platform, The Passive Income Portal, which features:

- Due diligence access for each RSA deal
- Portfolio dashboard with income tracking
- DealWire newsletter with weekly RST opportunities
- Concierge onboarding and accreditation verification

Join the Movement

CapitalTech invites accredited investors to start building their own Passive Revenue Portfolios alongside CapitalTech. With the rise of blockchain, tokenization, and contract-based income, Revenue Sharing Tokens offer a powerful new asset class for yield-focused investors.
