

Charl Ceronio, MD: A Champion for Rural Healthcare in Louisiana

Innovative Physician Expands Access to Opioid Use Disorder Treatment and Hyperbaric Medicine

New York City, New York Jun 19, 2025 (IssueWire.com) - Charl Ceronio, MD, a board-certified primary care physician, is making significant strides in rural Louisiana healthcare, with a focus on primary care, hyperbaric medicine, and opioid use disorder treatment. Since joining Hardtner Medical Clinic in June 2017, Dr. Ceronio has dedicated his career to improving health outcomes and increasing access to critical medical services in underserved communities.

As the Medical Director of Ceronio Clinic, Dr. Ceronio has launched initiatives aimed at providing medication-assisted treatment for opioid use disorder, a pressing issue affecting many individuals and families in Louisiana. By obtaining a DATA-2000 waiver, he is equipped to offer comprehensive treatment options that help reduce opioid-related harm in the community. "My goal is to create a supportive environment for those struggling with addiction and to provide them with the resources they need to recover," Dr. Ceronio stated.

In addition to his work at Ceronio Clinic, Dr. Ceronio serves as the Medical Director of Hyperbarics at Hardtner Medical Center, where he oversees advanced treatment options for various medical conditions, including decompression sickness and chronic wounds. His leadership extends to Harbor Hospice, where he collaborates with a dedicated team to deliver compassionate end-of-life care, ensuring patients receive the support they need during their most vulnerable moments.

Dr. Ceronio's commitment to rural healthcare is deeply rooted in his journey. Raised in Central Louisiana, he earned his Bachelor of Science in Biology from Louisiana Christian University in 2008 before pursuing his Medical Degree at St. George's University School of Medicine, graduating in 2014. He completed his residency at the LSU Rural Family Medicine Program at LSUHSC New Orleans, where he served as Chief Resident, demonstrating his dedication to excellence in medical practice.

Outside of his professional responsibilities, Dr. Ceronio enjoys riding motorcycles and playing video games, providing a balance to his demanding career. His favorite vacation destination is Rome, reflecting his appreciation for history and culture.

Dr. Charl Ceronio is not just a physician; he is a vital part of the rural Louisiana community, working tirelessly to enhance healthcare access and improve the quality of life for his patients. His innovative approach and compassionate care make him a true advocate for those in need.
