

Charles P. Mouton, MD, MS, MBA: Championing Health Equity and Innovation in Medical Education

Leading UTMB's John Sealy School of Medicine with Vision, Integrity, and a Commitment to Transforming Lives

New York City, New York Jun 17, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - The University of Texas Medical Branch (UTMB) proudly announces the continued leadership of Charles P. Mouton, MD, MS, MBA, who serves as the Vice President and Executive Dean of the John Sealy School of Medicine, as well as a Senior Advisor to the President. With an extensive background in medical education and a commitment to health equity, Dr. Mouton has been instrumental in advancing the mission of UTMB since joining the institution in March 2017.

His distinguished career includes previous roles as Executive Vice President, Provost, and Dean of the John Sealy School of Medicine. Dr. Mouton has also served as the interim President of UTMB and Vice Dean for Academic Affairs. His leadership is characterized by a deep dedication to medical education, community health, and advancing research in critical areas such as women's health and health disparities.

Dr. Mouton's academic journey began at Howard University College of Medicine, where he served as Professor and Chair of the Department of Community and Family Medicine. He obtained his undergraduate and doctoral degrees from Howard and later pursued further education at prestigious institutions, earning a Master's Degree in Clinical Epidemiology from the Harvard School of Public Health and an MBA from Tennessee Technological University. Before joining UTMB, Dr. Mouton was the Senior Vice President for Health Affairs and Dean of the School of Medicine at Meharry Medical College in Nashville, where he established the institution's first Clinical Simulation Center and contributed significantly to its Master of Public Health program.

Dr. Mouton has been recognized as a Fellow of the Gerontological Society of America, the American Academy of Family Physicians, and the American Geriatrics Society. He is also an active member of the National Institutes of Health Council of Councils and the Liaison Committee on Medical Education, reflecting his commitment to improving health outcomes at the national level.

Dr. Mouton's primary research interests focus on women's health, health disparities, late-life domestic violence, and aging. He was a co-investigator for the Women's Health Initiative, a groundbreaking study aimed at understanding the health of women across the United States.

As Dr. Charles P. Mouton continues to lead with vision and purpose, UTMB looks forward to his ongoing contributions to medical education, research, and the promotion of health equity for all communities.
