

City Of Honor - New Crime Drama Series Sells Out Premier

Directorial Debut of Rising Latino Action Star Jose Luis Torres II Sells Out June 20th Screening.

Burlington Township, New Jersey Jun 18, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - Latino Director and Rising Action Star Jose Luis Torres II Sells Out First Theatrical Screening of New Series City of Honor

The highly anticipated first theatrical screening of the new crime drama series City of Honor has officially sold out ahead of its June 20th premiere at 7:00 PM, held at Regal Cinemas in Burlington, NJ. This marks the directorial debut of rising Latino action star Jose Luis Torres II, whose growing buzz has helped propel the series into the spotlight.

Coming off the success of his recent action film Killer Ex, Torres has solidified himself as one to watch—both in front of and behind the camera. The City of Honor pilot has already been picked up for distribution by Relentless Media and Deja Vu Distribution, with an official streaming release scheduled for June 27 across multiple platforms. Torres has partnered with production company Bold Media to bring the series to life.

Set to make a strong impression, the premiere is drawing attention from fans and industry professionals alike. Attending the screening are top cast members including Marcus Taylor (Straight Outta Compton), Amber Marchese (Real Housewives of New Jersey), and Felix Cortes (Cobra Kai). The guest list also includes film festival directors, producers, and attendees traveling from as far as Puerto Rico, a testament to the growing anticipation and reach of the project.

Early indicators suggest that City of Honor could make a powerful mark—not just as an action-packed series, but as a significant step forward in Latino representation behind the camera. Torres, who brings both natural charisma and a strong martial arts background, promises to elevate action storytelling with authenticity and flair.

“The support and excitement surrounding this premiere are overwhelming,” said Torres. “This project is a labor of love and a testament to what can happen when diverse voices are given the platform they deserve.”

With City of Honor, Jose Luis Torres II proves he’s more than just an on-screen talent—he’s a rising creative force in the industry. The sold-out premiere and upcoming streaming debut are promising signs of the series’ potential to captivate audiences and influence the future of inclusive storytelling.
