

CollectionPro Sets the Gold Standard in Out-of-Network Claim Management

Revolutionizing out-of-network collections—pay only when you win with CollectionPro’s legal-backed model.

New York City, New York Jun 23, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - CollectionPro, a recognized leader in collecting from out-of-network claims on behalf of providers, payer-based collections, and accounts receivable management, proudly reaffirms its commitment to delivering swift, ethical, and results-driven recovery solutions. Located at Carnegie Hall Tower, 152 West 57th Street, 59th Floor (North), New York, CollectionPro has transformed many aging OON claims into revenue. With a robust foundation of industry expertise and advanced technology, CollectionPro is, in fact, redefining collections and rewriting revenue recovery possibilities.

“At CollectionPro, we understand that every dollar counts. Our customized strategies, transparent communication and strict compliance standards have consistently yielded superior recovery outcomes — while preserving our clients' valuable customer relationships,” said the spokesperson of CollectionPro, adding, “Backed by a team of experienced professionals, AI-powered tools, and a legal desk, we ensure fast turnarounds, insightful reporting, and a seamless recovery experience.”

What Makes CollectionPro Different from Other Out-of-Network Claim Recovery Solutions?

- Multi-state licensed attorney with 10,000+ successful cases
- Flat 10% recovery fee across all specialties
- All (IDR) arbitration & administrative fees advanced on behalf of the provider

- Real-time reporting and seamless client communication
- Customized recovery strategies for 30+ diverse specialties

With a proven track record of industry-leading recovery rates, CollectionPro has become synonymous with advanced, compliant, and data-driven collection practices. Their collection team offers clear, customized reports so providers stay fully informed, along with highly affordable legal support with high return potential. Working on a strict contingency-based fee model, CollectionPro's clients pay only when they successfully recover their stuck revenue.

Beyond Recovery: Strategic Support for Provider Success

Having gone beyond traditional recovery solutions, CollectionPro experts recover aging Out-of-Network claims by initiating and managing the Independent Dispute Resolution (IDR) process, ensuring that every provider burdened with underpaid or denied claims is able to turn them into bona fide revenue and remains ahead of the curve in today's complex billing environment.

"We believe that collections aren't just about recovery — they're about building trust, delivering value, and enabling long-term financial health for our clients," added the spokesperson. "In short, you only pay when you win."

As the medical billing landscape continues to evolve, CollectionPro remains at the forefront—continuously innovating, adapting, and setting new standards for excellence in accounts receivable management.
