

Dermalign Medical Aesthetics Offers Personalized Non-Surgical Rejuvenation in Bucks County

Led by Board-Certified PA Ekata Rushi, Dermalign Offers Personalized, Cutting-Edge Treatments That Lift, Tighten, and Rejuvenate Skin Without Surgery or Downtime

Langhorne, Pennsylvania Jul 1, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - In the growing field of non-invasive cosmetic procedures, Dermalign Medical Aesthetics, led by board-certified Physician Associate Ekata Rushi, PA-C, is offering customized aesthetic care for clients seeking subtle, natural-looking results without surgery.

With a background in emergency and surgical medicine, Rushi brings a clinical approach to aesthetic treatments, emphasizing safety, evidence-based techniques, and individual client needs. Dermalign Medical Aesthetics serves Bucks and Montgomery Counties as well as neighboring parts of New Jersey.

Advancing Non-Surgical Solutions

Among the services offered at Dermalign is the increasingly popular PDO (Polydioxanone) thread lift—a non-surgical procedure that uses dissolvable sutures to lift and support facial tissue. Often referred to as a “non-surgical facelift,” the treatment aims to provide temporary improvement in skin firmness and facial contour with minimal downtime.

At Dermalign, PDO thread procedures are tailored for a variety of cosmetic concerns, including:

- Brow enhancement
- Jawline definition
- Neck lifting
- Mid-face and lower-face tightening
- The trending “Ponytail Lift” for a lifted outer-eye area

While individual outcomes may vary, the treatment is often sought by those looking for moderate improvements without the risks or recovery associated with surgery.

Integrating Aesthetic and Clinical Expertise

Dermalign’s approach goes beyond surface-level treatment. Rushi incorporates years of medical training with ongoing education in aesthetic advancements, completing more than 160 hours of continuing education annually in injectables, skin therapies, and weight management.

“Our goal is to create a personalized plan that works with each patient’s goals, skin type, and lifestyle,” Rushi explains. “We focus on enhancing confidence through thoughtful, minimally invasive care.”

Rushi holds a Master’s degree in Health Sciences from the Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine and has worked alongside leading surgeons across Pennsylvania and New Jersey. Her transition into medical aesthetics reflects a desire to build longer-term relationships with clients and support holistic self-care.

Moisturizing and Restorative Treatments

Dermalign also offers rejuvenating facial treatments featuring Polydeoxyribonucleotide (PDRN), a DNA-based compound that has been studied for its potential use in skin hydration and renewal. These facials are offered as a standalone treatment or in combination with thread lifts for clients seeking an added boost to skin tone and texture.

While research into PDRN continues to evolve, it has been explored for its potential in improving skin appearance in cosmetic settings. Clients report satisfaction with its hydrating effects, particularly for dull or aging skin. Dermalign ensures all treatments are administered based on individual consultations and current clinical best practices.

A Commitment to Patient-Centered Care

What distinguishes Dermalign, according to clients, is its boutique-style experience, grounded in medical precision and patient education. The spa offers:

- Private, judgment-free consultations
- Transparent pricing and treatment plans
- Care designed to prioritize safety, comfort, and natural-looking outcomes

Located in Langhorne, PA, Dermalign welcomes patients from across Bucks County, Montgomery County, and beyond.

“We believe aesthetic medicine should be about enhancing what makes each person unique—not masking it,” says Rushi.

About Ekata Rushi, PA-C

Ekata Rushi, PA-C is a licensed, board-certified Physician Associate and member of the American Academy of Physician Assistants (AAPA) and the Pennsylvania Society of Physician Assistants. Her clinical background includes over a decade of experience in bariatric surgery, neurosurgery, and emergency care. She now focuses on non-surgical cosmetic procedures that align beauty with evidence-based practice.

Rushi resides in Newtown, PA, with her family and is an active member of the local community.

Learn More

To schedule a consultation or explore available treatments, visit www.dermalignmedspa.com. Follow Dermalign on Instagram and Facebook for updates, patient stories, and insights into current non-invasive aesthetic trends.

Media Contact

dermalign-medical-aesthetics

@dermalignmedspa.com

320 Middletown Blvd, STE 300,

Source : dermalign-medical-aesthetics

See on IssueWire