

EXCLUSIVE From Palaces to Prayer Halls:

Dr. Ddnard's Jet-Set Life Comes With a Side of Meditation Prayer.

London, England Jul 7, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - Who says queens only wear crowns? Dr. Ddnard, Asian's soft-spoken spiritual magnate turned global business powerhouse, has been making waves from Kensington to Dubai and now, she's back in the headlines for an unexpected double life that's giving us major Eat, Pray, Collect Funds energy.

Fresh off a whisper-worthy partnership with none other than Sarah Ferguson, Duchess of York (yes, that royal, sister-in-law to the late Princess Diana), Ddnard is proving she's more than just a best-selling author, successful finance girl and meditation maven—she's the rare woman who can close a $400M mental health tech deal and lead a silent retreat barefoot in the forest... all in the same quarter.

Spotted hopping between London, Saint Tropez, Dubai, New York, the globe-trotting guru hasn't lost her roots.

"I never forget Asia," she said, flashing her signature serene smile. "I still go to Hong Kong and Thailand every three months—always."

And while one might expect spa days and smoothies, Ddnard's schedule is anything but zen.

“Yes, I come to host meditation retreats... but also to collect debts from people who owe me in all means.” She confesses with a twinkle in her eye.

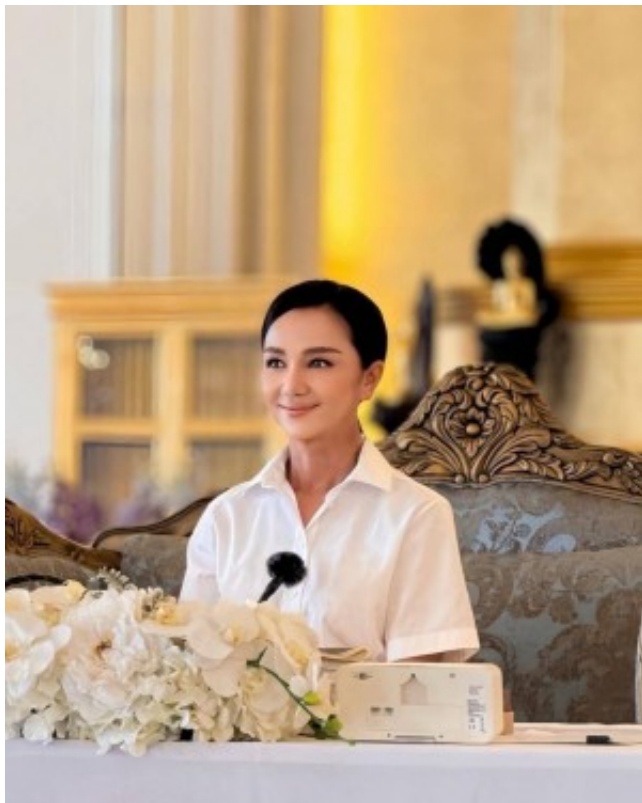

That’s right—while others sip matcha, Ddnard tracks down IOUs. Enlightenment can’t wait, so as overdue.

Behind the velvet veil of meditation bells and royal handshakes lies a woman who embodies modern Asian soft power: poised, unshakable, and quietly lethal when it comes to unfinished business.

Her mental wellness platform, Zoul, last March was valued at $222 million, and industry insiders say the billion-dollar Meditationworldnews mark is just around the corner. “She’s Oprah meets Ray Dalio meets stealth mode Dalai Lama,” whispers one London investor. “Only younger and all under Asian polite smile.”

Moral of the story? Don’t owe money to a woman who can read your aura and your balance sheet in the same breath.

Spiritual, savage, and very much in season. Ddnard—we see you.
