

Fashion Meets Tech: Axolook Unveils Personalized 3D Mannequin Software on Kickstarter

Axolook empowers designers and fashion enthusiasts to visualize and customize outfits in real time using personalized 3D mannequins—offering a revolutionary, user-friendly platform that's changing the future of digital fashion design.

Bari, Puglia Jun 27, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - Axolook Launches Revolutionary 3D Clothing Software to Transform Digital Fashion

Innovative fashion-tech startup Axolook, led by designer Tommaso De Cosmo, has launched a Kickstarter campaign to bring its cutting-edge 3D clothing software to market. The platform allows users to visualize, customize, and personalize any outfit on fully customizable 3D mannequins, marking a new frontier in digital fashion.

Axolook bridges creativity and technology by enabling designers, retailers, and fashion lovers to experiment with fabrics, colors, fits, and patterns in real time. This interactive experience eliminates guesswork, reduces waste, and speeds up the design process.

“With Axolook, we’re empowering everyone — from professionals to enthusiasts — to bring their fashion ideas to life with precision and ease,” says Tommaso De Cosmo. “It’s about making fashion design accessible, efficient, and fun.”

The Kickstarter campaign aims to raise €2,500 to enhance the software and expand features. Backers will receive early access, exclusive customization tools, and unique digital assets.
