

GhostPeek Brings Back Instagram's Chronological Follows — Instantly and Anonymously

A new tool lets users see who someone just followed on Instagram — no login, no downloads, just pure insight for public accounts.

Miami, Florida Jun 13, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - A new tool called GhostPeek is helping users see who someone just followed on Instagram — instantly, anonymously, and without logging in.

Designed for people who want clarity in digital relationships, GhostPeek restores visibility to the chronological "following" list — a feature Instagram quietly removed. Instead of the randomized list shown in the app today, GhostPeek shows the most recent follows and followers of any public Instagram account.

“There was a moment in my life where I needed clarity about someone’s online behavior, and Instagram just made it impossible,” said the creator of GhostPeek. “That’s what inspired me to build this.”

GhostPeek doesn’t require users to sign in or download anything. It’s fully web-based, lightning-fast, and works across all devices. Whether you’re checking on a partner, monitoring influencer behavior, or just curious, GhostPeek delivers the insight users miss from Instagram’s earlier days.

The tool only works on public profiles, preserving Instagram’s privacy settings while offering much-needed transparency. Thousands of users are already relying on GhostPeek for its sleek design, simplicity, and raw usefulness.
