Madurai, Tamil Nadu Jun 19, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - Hashcodex, a fintech software development company from India, has launched a new Forex CRM software built to help forex brokers handle clients and work faster with less effort. The software is easy to use and is made for both small and large broker teams.

Chandru Murugan, the CEO of Hashcodex, said, “Brokers should focus on growing their business, not on chasing spreadsheets and switching tools. That is why we built this CRM to keep everything simple, clean, and in one place.”

This Forex CRM gives you:

- ❑ Lead tracking without confusion
- ❑ Client management in one dashboard
- ❑ KYC status check made simple
- ❑ Easy support ticket replies
- ❑ Real-time updates and alerts

Everything works from one dashboard. No need to move between different platforms. It saves time and helps brokers stay more organized.

The best part is that you do not need any technical skills. Hashcodex gives full setup support and fast onboarding so teams can start using the software in just a few minutes. It also allows custom changes based on your needs.

If you are a forex broker trying to grow your business, this tool can help you manage things better. Reach out to Hashcodex for a free demo today.
