Prominent internist and educator strengthens graduate medical training in Southwest Florida

New York City, New York Jun 25, 2025 (IssueWire.com) - HCA Florida Blake Hospital is pleased to announce the appointment of Dr. Omar Pérez-Feliciano, MD, as Associate Program Director for its Internal Medicine Residency Program. A board-certified internist, Dr. Pérez-Feliciano has been a foundational member of the hospital's core faculty for several years and will now play a more active leadership role in shaping the next generation of internal medicine physicians.

Dr. Pérez-Feliciano is known throughout Bradenton and the broader Gulf Coast region for his expertise in managing inpatient care. As an internal medicine hospitalist at HCA Florida Blake Hospital, he oversees the clinical treatment of hospitalized patients, working closely with multidisciplinary teams to ensure high-quality outcomes. He is fluent in English and possesses over six years of practice experience dedicated to comprehensive internal medicine services.

During his tenure as core faculty in the Internal Medicine Residency, Dr. Pérez-Feliciano has earned praise for his engaging teaching style and steadfast mentorship. Patients and residents alike value his clear communication, thorough explanations, and commitment to excellence. In his enhanced role, he will expand his responsibilities to include curriculum development, resident evaluation, and oversight of both ambulatory and inpatient learning experiences.

Located at 2020 59th St. W, Bradenton, FL, HCA Florida Blake Hospital continues to lead graduate medical education in Southwest Florida. Dr. Pérez-Feliciano's promotion comes at a pivotal time as the institution prepares to grow its residency programs to meet rising regional healthcare demands. His leadership vision emphasizes evidence-based training, patient-centered care, and interprofessional collaboration as cornerstones of the program's future.

HCA Florida Blake Hospital's Internal Medicine Residency Program trains highly skilled physicians to excel in today's complex and evolving healthcare landscape. Faculty members like Dr. Pérez-Feliciano are central to its mission of delivering excellent patient care while advancing medical knowledge through education.
