

How Revenue-Sharing Tokens Can Provide Passive Income for Millions

—and How the CapitalTech DealWire Helps You Find Them

Fort Lauderdale, Florida Jun 11, 2025 (IssueWire.com) - In an economy where automation is rapidly replacing traditional jobs, and inflation continues to erode purchasing power, a new financial model is emerging—one that offers everyday accredited investors a pathway to income, purpose, and ownership without needing to be venture capitalists or landlords. That model is Revenue-Sharing Tokens (RSTs).

And the key to discovering these opportunities? The CapitalTech DealWire—a free, investor-focused newsletter spotlighting high-yield, cash-flowing opportunities in real businesses and real assets.

???? What Are Revenue-Sharing Tokens?

Revenue-Sharing Tokens (RSTs) are blockchain-enabled investment instruments that entitle holders to a percentage of a company's gross revenue, typically paid out on a quarterly basis. Unlike traditional equity, RSTs don't rely on company exits or public listings. Instead, they offer:

- ☐ Quarterly cash flow
- ☐ 3–5 year terms
- ☐ No equity dilution
- ☐ Blockchain-based ownership
- ☐ Access to private markets

Imagine earning a percentage of revenue from a short-term rental platform, an oilfield services company, a solar energy project, or a construction firm—without owning stock, attending board meetings, or waiting for a buyout.

???? Income for the New Economy

More than 40 million Americans are considered accredited investors, yet most have limited access to private market deal flow. Revenue-Sharing Tokens change that.

By allowing fractional investments and removing the reliance on venture-style exits, RSTs unlock income-producing opportunities that were once reserved for insiders and institutions. This model is particularly powerful for:

- *Retirees seeking inflation-protected income
- *Professionals looking to diversify beyond the market
- *Influencers and advisors who want to offer unique financial tools to their communities

And with blockchain-enabled transparency, RSTs offer real-time reporting and secure ownership tracking that brings clarity to private investing.
