

Local Specialist Expands Neuroradiology Services at Orlando Health Bayfront Hospital

Dr. Milind D. Patel, MD, brings advanced diagnostic imaging and patient-centered care to the St. Petersburg community

New York City, New York Jun 22, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - Orlando Health Bayfront Hospital proudly announces the continued leadership and clinical expertise of Dr. Milind D. Patel, MD, as a board-certified neuroradiologist dedicated to enhancing diagnostic imaging services in the St. Petersburg region. Known for his precision in interpreting CT and MRI scans of the head, neck, spine, and nervous system, Dr. Patel joins a growing team committed to exceptional patient care and multidisciplinary collaboration.

Dr. Patel earned his medical degree from Ross University School of Medicine in 2015 and completed a diagnostic radiology residency at Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit. He then pursued a neuroradiology fellowship at Emory University School of Medicine in Atlanta, refining his skills in cutting-edge imaging interpretation and intervention. Since joining Orlando Health, he has brought over a decade of experience to the Neuroscience Institute, serving patients across Orlando, St. Petersburg, and surrounding communities.

A highly qualified diagnostician, Dr. Patel holds board certification in both Diagnostic Radiology and Neuroradiology from the American Board of Radiology. He seamlessly integrates his fluency in English, Gujarati, and Hindi to promote more inclusive care. He is recognized for his clear communication, dedication to staying current with imaging technology, and collaborative approach alongside neurologists, neurosurgeons, and other specialists.

“Staying at the forefront of imaging technology is a passion of mine,” said Dr. Patel. “I’m committed to delivering precise diagnoses that support effective treatment plans—from acute stroke detection to complex spinal disorders. I strive to make each patient feel heard, understood, and cared for through every imaging procedure and consultation.”

Dr. Milind D. Patel is board-certified in both Diagnostic Radiology and Neuroradiology. He received his MD from Ross University School of Medicine. He completed his diagnostic radiology residency at Henry Ford Hospital, followed by a fellowship in neuroradiology at Emory University School of Medicine. Fluent in English, Gujarati, and Hindi, Dr. Patel is committed to delivering inclusive and expert care. He currently practices at Orlando Health Bayfront Hospital in St. Petersburg, where he plays an active role in expanding the reach and quality of neuroradiology services in the region.
