

Meet Lloydine J. Jacobs, MD: Surgeon. CEO. Changemaker.

A Bold Force Driving Innovation in Orthopedic Medicine and Philanthropy

New York City, New York Jun 25, 2025 (Issuewire.com) - In the rapidly evolving fields of orthopedic and spinal surgery, Lloydine Jacobs, MD, is making waves—not only for her exceptional surgical skills but also for her compassionate approach to patient care. As the esteemed Chief Executive Officer of NexGen Orthopedic Health & Wellness, Dr. Jacobs is transforming the landscape of healing, emphasizing the importance of physical, emotional, and social well-being.

Under her visionary leadership, NexGen Orthopedics has emerged as a haven for individuals seeking relief from pain and a path to renewed vitality. Dr. Jacobs combines state-of-the-art orthopedic and spinal surgeries with ultra-minimally invasive techniques, ensuring that each treatment is not only innovative but also deeply personalized to meet the unique needs of every patient.

However, her story doesn't begin in the boardroom or the operating room. It begins with family. At the tender age of five, Dr. Jacobs witnessed her older brother's remarkable recovery from a life-threatening injury shortly after he was accepted to medical school. This experience ignited a passion within her that led her to graduate high school by 15 and earn her Medical Degree by 22. Excelling in her medical training, she ranked in the top 1% on the USMLE and honed her skills in specialized regenerative spine and joint procedures, laying the groundwork for NexGen's success.

Today, NexGen Orthopedics boasts an impressive 4.9-star rating and operates multiple cutting-edge facilities throughout New Jersey and New York, including locations in Paramus, Mahwah, North Bergen, Livingston, Carlstadt, and Hartsdale. Each facility adheres to Dr. Jacobs' core philosophy: treating the individual, not just the injury.

Beyond her medical practice, Dr. Jacobs is dedicated to a larger mission of giving back to the community. She is launching a philanthropic foundation focused on empowering women and educating children, aiming to extend her impact beyond the operating room. Her vision is to break cycles of disadvantage, uplift futures, and create access to opportunities—echoing the purpose and perseverance that fueled her own early journey.

Dr. Lloydine Jacobs is not just a surgeon; she is a beacon of hope and healing. With a steadfast commitment to both her patients and her community, she continues to inspire countless lives through her work at NexGen and her philanthropic endeavors in multiple countries around the world.
